Hi-Fi Prototype User Manual

1. Logging in

When loading up the system the index page will show a login screen. The user should use the following details to log in:

— Username: user1
— Password: password

If there are any issues with logging in, the user may click the link labelled as 'Access' which can be found in green font in the bottom right corner of the login box. This will take them straight through to the Homepage.

2. Using the Homepage

When on the Homepage the user has a choice of three different ways to get their order recommendation. The 'New:' button will recommend them a brand new order, the 'Regular:' button will recommend them an order based on their previous orders and finally the 'Custom:' button will allow them to choose specific requirements for a custom recommended order. These instructions can also be found on the webpage.

3. Navigation

Where applicable, there will be buttons labelled 'Back'. These will redirect the user to the previous page. This can be found in the top left corner of most pages.

There is also a 'Logout' link which can be found in red font placed at the top right corner of all pages (except the login page). Clicking this will take the user back to the login page.

Navigation through the pages is relatively simple, as there aren't many, and where required there are further prompts on the pages themselves to guide you through.
